A LIST OF NURSERY SPECIALTIES

We have hundreds of other varieties in Fruits and Shade Trees, Evergreens, Shrubs, Viola Bulbs and Hardy Plants. Write for what you want if it is not described here.

The Gladiolus

A delightful flower for the home garden. It grows from bulbs which increase in number from year to year. Plant them in shallow furrows any time in late April, May or June. Then keep the weeds down and the ground stirred occasionally. That is all there is to it except the cutting of the great spikes of wonderful sky-like blooms which last ten days to two weeks in water. Dig up the bulbs in late fall and carry them over winter like potatoes in your cellar. Gladioli are just the flower for the ruler. One can always move bulbs. Remember we pay transportation on all stock you order.

FANCY MIXED. A really superb blend of the finer sorts showing almost every shade and marking to be found in Gladioli. Try a hundred of these, planting in four lots at intervals of two weeks. They will give a succession of flowers for cutting from late July until frost and you will find more bulbs than you planted when you come to dig in November. Dozen 30c; 50 for $1.50; 100 for $3.25; 200 for $6.00.

NEW HYBRIDS. An extra early strain running largely to shades and tints of primrose, saffron, apricot, bronze, blush and rose. Price, same as Fancy Mixed.

Our Wonderful Wait-A-Year Collection

It's a bargain offer all right, but it's that rare sort of bargain in which the quality of the stock is absolutely as good as the best. In fact it is part of our best. The catch comes in the size. The shrubs, trees, and vines in the collection are just one year younger than our regular grade. Nutty, thrifty, and well-rooted, they really transplant better than those of larger growth. You have to wait a year for your full effect but you save more than 35% by so doing.
